To The "RAINBOW DIVISION" Somewhere In France

THE Rainbow on the Rhine

WORDS

BY

JAMES
W.
McGEE
Writer of "MINE"

MUSIC

BY

EFFIE
STEWART
(Soprano)

Illustration by Courtesy of the N. Y. Herald

25c. net

NEW YORK
LUCKHARDT & BELDER,
10 WEST 45TH STREET.

The Rainbow On The Rhine.

Words by James W. Mc Gee.

Music by Effie Stewart.

Tempo di Marcia.
Piano.
f
The They've
And
boys are now in fight - ing trim, Their hearts are filled with cheer The left be - hind their lov - ing ones, Their sweet-hearts and their wives They how they long to see their flag, Tri - um - phant in the fray For

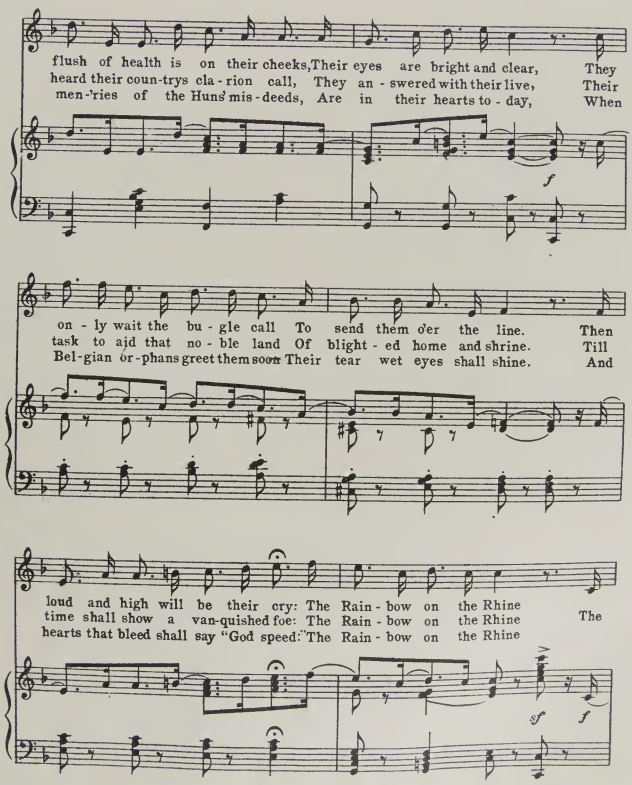
L. & H. 4022-3

Copyright MCMXVIII by Effie Stewart.



flush of health is on their cheeks, Their eyes are bright and clear, They heard their coun-trys cla-rion call, They an-swered with their live, Their men-'ries of the Huns' mis-deeds, Are in their hearts to-day, When
f on-ly wait the bu-gle call To send them o'er the line. Then task to aid that no-ble land Of blight-ed home and shrine. Till Bel-gian or-phans greet them soon Their tear wet eyes shall shine. And loud and high will be their cry: The Rain-bow on the Rhine time shall show a van-quished foe: The Rain-bow on the Rhine The hearts that bleed shall say "God speed:" The Rain-bow on the Rhine sf
f

Rain-bow on the Rhine The Rain-bow on the Rhine Then Till And loud and high will be their cry: The Rain-bow on the Rhine.
time shall show a van-quished foe: The Rain-bow on the Rhine. The hearts that bleed shall say "God speed:" The Rain-bow on the Rhine.
Rain-bow on the Rhine, The Rain-bow on the Rhine. Then Till And loud and high will be their cry: The Rain-bow on the Rhine.
time shall show a van-quished foe: The Rain-bow on the Rhine.
hearts that bleed shall say "God speed:" The Rain-bow on the Rhine.
ten.
ten.
sff